

Commendation for Interior Architecture

St Hugo

studio-gram with JBG Architects studio-gram have used a palette of timber, leather, marble, stone and brass to create a dramatic and luxurious interior at St Hugo. The intimate scale of the stone-walled dining space contrasts with the double-height tasting room, which provides expansive views across the vineyards. In the cellar, the enormous tear-drop shaped table sets the stage for special events and cleverly integrates heating within while keeping the wine in the wall storage temperature controlled.

Photographer: David Sievers

